

Interview Intern

A note for testers

Creativity First

A mountain of footage can take so much focus that there is less energy left for the creative decisions. I built Interview Intern to help with that work, preserve your creativity, and help you make a better edit.

Your vision and taste stay in charge.

The app should support your decisions. It cannot replace what you want to say or how you want to say it.

Install

Apple Silicon Mac (M1 or newer) + internet + your demo code.

1 Open the DMG

Drag Interview Intern to Applications, then open it.

2 If macOS cannot verify the developer

System Settings > Privacy & Security > Open Anyway. Confirm Open.

3 Activate

Enter your demo code and accept the terms. Usage sharing is optional.

Testing Interview Intern

Try it with a real interview and find your own way through. Does it save you energy? Does it help the edit? Do you feel in control? Notice anything unclear, slow, or broken.

Tell me anything

What you loved, what you hated, what could be better - even the smallest thought is useful. Please speak your mind.

Send it however is easiest: WhatsApp messages as you go, an email, or a document when you finish. All are fine. Screenshots help with problems.
